

Campus Visit to Allegheny College

Date: Thursday, 1 October 2009

Location / Time: Alden Hall Room 101 / 4:30 pm

Ahmad Douglas '02 is a graduate of the Allegheny College Department of Computer Science.

In this presentation, we will explore internship and full-time employment opportunities at Los Alamos National Laboratory, one of the United States' premier multi-disciplinary scientific research laboratories. Our primary focus will be careers in computer science, with a special look at emerging opportunities in cyber security, information assurance, and information warfare.

A limited number of time slots are available earlier in the day to meet with Ahmad to discuss internship and full-time employment opportunities. Please send e-mail to douglas@lanl.gov to arrange an appointment.
